THANK YOU

To the Church Family of First UMC

I have found that there are moments in life when “thank you” seems so woefully inadequate; yet for the most part, it is all that we are left with to express our overwhelming sense of gratitude. This is the sense that Kaura, Solomon (our 1-year-old Black Lab) and I have as we prepare to make the transition from this appointment to our next. So let me begin by simply saying, “Thank you.”

Over the course of the past year, a day did not pass nor was a challenge ever faced when I did not feel truly supported, encouraged, and appreciated by this church family. While my experience as a pastor is limited, and I continue to have much to learn, even now I am able to recognize what a tremendous gift this is to anybody who is embarking on a lifetime of ordained ministry. I am confident that this is a life-long gift that I will carry, cherish, and be thankful for throughout the time I have in ministry. So again, “thank you.”

Furthermore, allow me to thank God and you for the privilege of walking alongside with you as one of your pastors since this past June. I have been grateful for this privilege throughout my time with you, whether we were bounding on top of one of life’s mountains or finding our way through one of life’s valleys. Nonetheless, I relinquish this privilege to the one that God is calling to serve as your next associate pastor. While I continue to learn that letting go is not an easy process, I am grateful we are working through it together for the building-up of Christ’s Kingdom. So again, “thank you.”

Finally, I would like to take one last opportunity to say “thank you.” The ways in which you—as a church family, and as individual members of this church family—have enriched our lives is countless. This is a blessing you bestowed upon us when you said “hello.” This is a blessing you bestowed upon us as we shared in Christian community with one another. This is a blessing you have continued to bestow upon us as we have said “goodbye.” And we carry this blessing as we say “hello” to Midland First United Methodist Church, with lives that have been enriched by God’s grace through you. And for all this—Kaura, Solomon, and I are left with pretty much one last thing to say “thank you.”

God’s Best—Pastor Jeremy

Thank You!

I'm sending a very special "Thank You" to the members of the congregation for their cards, messages and prayers while I was in St. Mary Hospital and then to Heartland for recovery of pneumonia. I have congestive heart failure and am working hard to recover. I still need your prayers as they are so healing as I continue to get well. This Thank You has been a long time because I could not write and now my eyesight is failing rapidly. Thank you to Men's Prayer Group, Women's Prayer Group, UMW, Ruth Circle, and all I may miss. Your continued support is appreciated. I had the most beautiful bouquet from members of First Church. Vanessa's Flowers are lovely. Thank you all.

Erma Collins

Thanks to the Men's and Women's Prayer Groups and the church family for their prayers, cards and concerns for my friend Marilyn Smith. She has a long way to go before remission from the lung cancer. She will require further chemo treatments through August. She is doing very well regardless of all her problems. Again, thanks for your concerns and prayers. God bless,

Ila Marsee

I want to thank my church family for all their kindness after my surgery. Special thanks to prayer groups, those that sent cards, sunshine volunteers for the cookies, and the knitting group for the lovely prayer shawl. I appreciate Rev. Africa's words of comfort and encouragement. Thank you for all your prayers.

Greta Poole

Dear Church Family,

Thank you so much for your outpouring of comfort and concern for my family at the passing of my father. Lindzy and I were so grateful for God's blessing of a wonderful visit with him in March. It was as though God poured out a lifetime of love on all of us in that short time we were together. God is so good, and so are you. I'm so thankful to be part of such a caring, supportive church family. God bless,
Kathlyn Juras

UMW:

Many thanks for the cookies and also for the beautiful bright yellow prayer shawl. Nancy Remick delivered all these goodies to me and had a nice visit. In Christian love,

Katherine Thompson

To Pastor Klump and the staff of Plymouth First United Methodist Church,
We thank the Lord for your loving hospitality and the privilege of sharing with you in ministry. God bless you!

Outreach Options

N Ideas for Small Group Outreach and Service

E Each year, in every community, teenagers fill out college admission forms, take or re-take entrance exams, and open their own checking account. These teens are college-bound youth and future leaders. These students are as different as the schools and occupations they are choosing, but I have discovered that their jitters are the same. I have yet to meet a graduating senior that does not have some anxiety about where they are going or how they are going to pay for it. Teens talk. When an adult chooses to listen, their needs can be clearly heard. What I have learned by listening is that these pre-flight fledglings need:

- Encouragement and support
- Guidance
- Money or necessary supplies
- Humor
- Prayer

This month, provide a college-bound high school senior with a basket full of love and security. Choose a teen from your church's youth group or neighborhood, or select the child or grandchild of a group member. Discuss this particular teen's personality, needs and wants. Decide what items need to be purchased or made, and divide the responsibilities. Some items to consider:

- A Bible
- A journal
- Music download gift certificate
- Coffee gift certificates
- Sweatshirt or t-shirt from his or her hometown
- Desktop supplies
- Emergency cash (an empty matchbox with a dollar inside)
- Non-perishable food
- Stamps

As a group, brainstorm a list of things you wish you had known before you went to college or left home. These things can be humorous or serious. Creatively compile the list, and make it the centerpiece of the basket. Deliver the basket to the student with a promise to pray throughout his or her first year of college. As soon as possible, obtain the teen's address and email, and follow up your commitment to pray with cards and emails throughout the year. (Source: SmallGroups.com)

THANK YOU, FRAN!

After 16 years, Fran Loiselle is relinquishing her duties as Bell Choir Director. Fran has directed the Festival Bells since 1990, and has directed the Praise Ringers. She has also assisted with directing the Chancel Choir when help was needed. In addition to inspiring us with bell music during worship, during Fran's tenure, the Festival Bells participated in Christmas at Tonquish Creek and American Guild of English Handbell Ringers festivals in Battle Creek. They also rang at national handbell conferences, where they were part of a choir of hundreds of bell ringers. One bell choir member recalls visiting DePauw University and walking on the catwalk in the bell tower to see the carillon, as well as a bell festival in Holland, Michigan when a storm caused a power outage. All of these experiences give ringers the opportunity to develop friendships as they ring for God's glory.

Thank you, Fran, for many years of excellent leadership, dedication, and commitment to our music ministry.

BOOKBYTES

Attention Junior Readers! School is soon ending. That means there will be time for summer reading, and your FUMC Library has some new books for you. Do you like mysteries? Sigmund Brouwer has a series of six Accidental Detective stories on the FEATURES shelf. Robert Elmer boasts six books in his Hyperlinkz Series. Paul McCuskers has three books of his Passages Manuscript series on the shelves. Among other series you will find Frank Peretti's books taking Jay and Lila Cooper and their father on worldwide adventures that will make you think you are a part of the Raiders of the Lost Ark. Along with the many new book selections, you will also find new videos! They are waiting for you!

For others readers, Charlene stumbled onto a 2-book series by Karen Kingsbury that centers part of the story on New York's St. Paul's Chapel near the 9/11 Twin Towers location. Many of you will recall that FUMC's traveling choir visited this site this past year, making this One Tuesday Morning and Beyond Tuesday Morning story a bit more personal to its readers. A new book by Karen, A Thousand Tomorrows, involves two rodeo championship holders harboring personal secrets—one emotionally challenged by hatred, the other medically challenged with cystic fibrosis. What happens when they share their secrets? Is this the story the author shed tears over in its initial plotting? Charlene plans to find out! After a cup of fellowship following the Sunday morning service, visit your FUMC Library for the pause that refreshes all week!

P.S.

As of May 31, nearly 60 Library items are overdue, with replacement cost of over $675. Items are loaned on a 3-week honor basis with no overdue fees. If an item is lost, however, the borrower is responsible for the replacement cost, per Library policy.

This is the perfect chance for you to bring a friend or neighbor and introduce them to our church. More registration forms are available on Sunday morning in Fellowship Hall, in the Great Hall, the church office, or online. Sign up today and join the island fun!

ALTAR PRAYER MINISTRY

Why come forward for altar prayer ministry?

Some come forward to thank and praise God for His many blessings and answers to prayer. Others come to stand in the gap and pray for another's need - family members, friends, youth, neighbors and fellow workers. Perhaps you are facing some trials, health issues or decisions and desire God's wisdom, healing touch and discernment. Prayer teams are available at the end of each service to stand in agreement with you, to thank God for His many blessings, to draw near to God and seek Him... to seek His will for your life. Won't you come and meet with your God at the altar?
